ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Kristin Nelson is a PhD candidate at Tulane University and has a Master's degree in Medical Anthropology from Case Western University. She has conducted extensive review of qualitative and quantitative instruments and youth programs for FOCUS on Young Adults. She lived and worked in Tanzania for 2 years.

Laurel MacLaren managed an adolescent sexual health program of the Indonesia Planned Parenthood Association (IPPA) in Yogyakarta. She oversaw the development of IPPA's contraceptive and STI services for unmarried youth, which emphasized providing affordable, accessible services to marginalized youth. She has a Master's in Public Policy from Harvard University and is currently the Communications Coordinator at FOCUS on Young Adults.

Robert J. Magnani, PhD, is currently an Associate Professor in the Department of International Health and Development of the Tulane School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine. Current activities and research interests include improving methodologies and data collection strategies for public health program monitoring and evaluation, and measuring the effectiveness of adolescent reproductive health interventions. He has worked in the international population and health fields in the areas of data collection systems and methodology, program/project monitoring and evaluation, and information systems support to program management and policy decision making. He has worked in 27 developing countries in all regions of the world, with specialization in East/Southeast Asia and (recently) Latin America.
